Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 13 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Showers, occasionally heavy, with sunny spells on Saturday. Windy.

Today:
Occasional blustery and sometimes heavy showers through Saturday, but there will also be some sunny spells in-between. Windy with coastal gales likely, winds easing a little later. Feeling chilly. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers largely dying out after midnight, leaving mostly dry conditions across the region, with clear spells developing. Strong breeze continuing overnight but a touch of frost possible in shelter. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
A mostly dry and bright morning, but a few showers developing by afternoon. Thicker cloud and showery rain arriving from the north-west by evening, clearing overnight. Breezy and feeling chilly. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Drier, brighter on Monday, becoming less windy. Tuesday, cloudier with some outbreaks of rain, feeling milder. Wednesday, the east probably rather cloudy with some showers. Brighter, mostly dry in west.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.